

BIRD HOUSES

Join the Eagle Valley Land Trust for a fun volunteer project on Sunday at 9 a.m. The Miller Ranch conservation area was protected in 2012 by the Eagle Valley Land Trust and is a sanctuary for many species of birds. Local children have built wooden bird houses for use on the property, and you can help install them! This project is part of Colorado Land Conservation Appreciation Week, which runs from June 3 through the 9. For more information visit www.evlt.org/participate or call 970-748-7654.
